Vol. 34, No. 21.

CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1927

Fall cantaloupes and honey dew melons are being harvested in the Brawley district. The melons are of unusually good quality, and early shipments have created a good demand in all marketing centers. Commercial planting of fall melons are being tried this year for the first time.

California's grape crop this season will total 2,372,000 tons on a fresh basis, the largest in the last three years by many tons, agricultural statisticians estimated from records of shipments up to November 7 and reports on the condition of the remaining crop.

England, Scandinavia, Holland and France, and other European countries are among the buyers of California apples. The Watsonville apple is the one mostly required abroad. Then comes the Newtown pippin. The export of fresh apples is made possible by the co-operation of agricultural scientists with the farmers of the State.

California's celery crop for the 1927-28 season will total 1,329,000 crates, the State Federal crop reporting service estimated recently. The territory devoted to celery this year includes 8,850 acres, more than twice the acreage reported as planted in Florida. The San Joaquin delta region is California's largest celery area.

The Imperial Citrus exchange 1927 season opened the last week in October, and indications point to successful and profitable year. The fruit this year will be shipped to the Sierra Madre-Lamanda packing sheds, where it will be culled and made ready for shipment. Best grapefruit will be branded "Sunkist," and will be marketed through the California Fruit Exchange. This is the first year that Imperial Valley growers have been affiliated with this exchange.

It is estimated that the recent storm did damage amounting to about $98,000 to Yolo County's $1,500,000 rice crop. The loss is figured at about 5 per cent of the total or 1,500 acres. Yolo county was a little ahead of the average in the rice growing counties in the matter of harvesting. If rains withhold for a few days, much of the rice will be salvaged as second and third grade, but weather predictions are for further rains, hence the loss is fixed as above.

One hundred tons of honey were shipped to Europe last year by William Atchley, Upland bee-keeper and a director of the San Bernardino county Bee-keepers Club, proving that the busy little bee is one of the best money makers in the "little live-stock" world. Most of the honey shipped to Europe by Mr. Atchley, went to Germany. Another heavy user is Scotland. European buyers prefer the wild honey produced from sage and buckwheat, rather than that from the orange blossom of Southern California. says Mr. Atchley, chiefly for the reason they have grown accustomed to the wild product, and have not used enough of the orange brand to really appreciate it.

The twenty-eight head of livestock to be exhibited by the University of California at the International in Chicago from November 26th to December 3rd were loaded on a fifty-foot cattle car last week and left for the trip east. This twenty-eight head included three head of steers, sixteen head of sheep and nine head of swine. According to those who have watched the University of California exhibits in the past, the chances are excellent for a good showing with awards in each class exhibited. The three University Farm herdsman, Alex McDonald, George Phillips, and Wayne Feldmiller, will accompany these examples of aristocracy in stockdom, taking care that they receive proper attention en route.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Tulare Poultry Association, Tulare county, last week, an increase of 6 cents in price on October eggs was reported. The prices set for the month were 40 cents for No. 1 eggs, and 30 cents for No. 2's. In the month the body handled a total business of $15,000. Eggs amounting to 500 cases were marketed for nearly $6,000. Poultry to the value of $3,000 was handled and nearly $7,000 worth of feeds and supplies were distributed.

Golden State

News of Interest to All

Charles W. Paine, secretary and manager of the State Fair, announced last week that the state Board of Agriculture has fixed September 1 to 8, inclusive, as the dates for the 1928 California State Fair, which will be held at Sacramento.

Tryouts for Californians seeking places on the National Rifle team which will participate in international competition in Holland next July will be held at Leona Heights, San Francisco, November 27. It was announced last week by Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt.

Local passenger train service between Truckee and Lake Tahoe may be replaced by highway bus service. The Southern Pacific last week applied to the Railroad Commission for permission to abandon three trains on the line. They showed service is being given at a loss and can be given efficiently and economically by busses it will operate. No curtailing of through service from San Francisco to Lake Tahoe is contemplated, it was said.

Diamond prospecting is being undertaken on an extensive scale in Lake county, according to word received by mining interests in Sacramento. The blue clay deposits of Lake county, declared to be similar to the blue clay of the African diamond mine district, are being combed, according to the report, for both diamonds and other precious stones.

A super-highway between the San Francisco Bay region and Sacramento! Elimination of thirteen miles of driving by a shorter, safer, more direct route between cities of the metropolitan area and the state capital. This is the proposal of the California State Automobile Association conveyed to the State Highway Commission in a communication signed by H. J. Brunner, chairman of the Highway Committee of the association board of directors.

The State Board of Barber Examiners, created by the last legislature, has just completed the licensing of 16,375 California tonsorial artists who have been practicing their profession for a sufficient length of time under terms of the new law to merit permits without examination. License No. 1 was issued to Daniel F. Tattenham of San Francisco, secretary of the State Federation of Barbers.

Announcement that the sum of $23,500,000 will be expended upon California highways in new construction and maintenance during 1928 is made at Sacramento by B. B. Meek, director of the State department of public works. A total of $7,500,000 will be available next year from the additional one cent gasoline tax. This money now is being allocated. Of the total sum, $13,000,000 will be derived from budget allowances and the 2-cent gas tax receipts for reconstruction and maintenance, and in addition there will be $3,000,000 in federal aid repayments. All of the balance will come from the additional 1-cent gasoline tax.

Bids have been called on the new animal science building which will be erected on the campus at the College of Agriculture. The legislature appropriated $300,000 for the structure. The bids will be opened on November 25th, and it is expected that the various committees will have completed their work so that the contract will be awarded at the meeting of the regents at their regular meeting on the second Tuesday in December. It will require about eight months to complete the building after it is begun.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company operates a street car system in Sacramento, its only utility of the kind. To placate the natural hunting instincts of its motormen, the company awards gold stars for not hitting pedestrians. Indicative of the dullness of a motorman's life in Sacramento is the fact that three galloping street-car chauffeurs have just drawn the medals for cruising 80,000 miles without a single pedestrian notch in their fenders.

California's lucky numbers, revealed for the first time last week, are numbers ending in 2, 5, 8 and 0. Records of the state Bureau of Vital Statistics show that a large proportion of Californians give their ages as ending in one of the four whenever they are called upon to fill out a public document. A woman is seldom 31, for instance, her age is in the early 30s, will in every likelihood be announced as either 30 or 32. The records for marriages, deaths and all other events involving the statement of ages show a deposition by both men and women to fib a little, according to State statisticians. And, curiously enough, this mild fibbing runs invariably to the figures 2, 5, 8, and zero.

THANKSGIVING

The things for which I am thankful
Are beyond computation;
Yet from the most obvious
I'll cull a small handful.

For the sacred boon of friendship
That draws together congenial souls
And for enemies whose sharp criticism
Spurs me on to nobler rolls.

I'm thankful for the advance of science,
For gains in truth and gifts of art;
For the adverse stroke of fortune
That proved the faith in the human heart.

For the night's starry dome that as An embroidered golden canopy
Thrills me with speechless wonder
For the painter of the great symphony.

I'm thankful for life and its work,
For the dance of the falling rain;
For food and shelter, light and warmth
And health and growth of heart and brain.

For the little road-side flower
Whose beauty awakes in me thought;
For thirst to grow and understand
And love of God and fellow man.

Rose E. Cunningham.

AGRICULTURAL LEADERS MEET IN SAN JOSE

Agricultural and business leaders of the Central Coast region met in San Jose at the St. Claire Hotel Friday, to work on problems of farm labor, rodent control, landings fields, forest protection, industrial development, publicity and highway safety.

This was the regular meeting of the Central Coast Region Advisory Council of the California Development Association.

Santa Clara county representatives on the association's Council are: Frank Abernathy, Saratoga; F. C. Mitchell, Bank of Italy, San Jose; H. S. Horsman, Los Gatos; V. T. McCurdy, Pear-grower, Santa Clara; C. F. Hamsher, First National Bank, Los Gatos; E. N. Richmond, San Jose; A. R. Roth, Comptroller, Stanford University; R. P. Van Orden, Orchardist, Mountain View; Leroy Anderson, orchardist, San Jose.

Others from this county invited to attend the meeting: R. H. Borchers, San Jose; W. A. Durand, Stanford University; Charles Snyder, San Jose.

Supervisors from Santa Clara county that attended the meeting are:

Charles P. Cooley, Palo Alto; A. L. Hubbard, San Jose; Henry Recker, Gilroy; Henry M. Ayer, San Jose; P. L. Martin, Santa Clara.

The Central Coast Regional Advisory Council of the California Development Association is a regional organization composed of a limited number of business and agricultural leaders in each county, working closely with the Chambers of Commerce and other civic bodies on economic development problems. All of the executive departments of this State organization, including the coordinated research body which contacts with every research agency in the State, are at the service of the Regional Council.

Eastern Brook Trout Planted in Streams

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 23—Ed Moody has just returned from Monterey county where, with Game Warden J. P. Visseri, he helped plant 100,000 Eastern brook trout in the streams of southern Monterey county. Most of the trout were released in the streams running through the Point Sur country.

The trout were of the same variety as have been planted in streams around Santa Cruz in recent weeks, in which the Santa Cruz Rod and Gun Club helped dispose of the fish.

One person in every 75 in Switzerland has an automobile, according to information received by the National Automobile Club.

WORLD ECONOMICS CLUB TOPIC

Monday afternoon the Country Woman's Club enjoyed a most interesting program under the leadership of Mrs. Ellen R. Smith. The subject was "World Events" and she gave a travel tour of the world, treating of the political situation and economic conditions in many of the countries.

Starting with China, she took her hearers to Japan, Persia, Turkey, the Balkan States, Italy, France, Germany and England. The latter part of her discussion was of countries more nearly connected with the United States, the Philippines, Mexico and the Pan-American congress to be held in Cuba.

In considering Turkey, Mrs. L. F. Shaw, read a very interesting letter from a former missionary there, who is still teaching in a school, which is no longer a religious school, however.

After returning to the United States where brief mention was made of President Coolidge's position and then Mrs. Effie Hubbell gave a brief review of the prohibition situation in our own country and the liquor problem elsewhere in the world.

Mrs. Marshall Ross read briefly regarding the disarmament conference held some months past and the coming conferences and committee meetings relative to disarmament.

In deference to its being Thanksgiving week, the chairman asked the members to sing "America" and "America the Beautiful," for which Mrs. D. H. Cramer played and Mrs. Hyde was leader, Mrs. H. C. Smith read Whittier's "The Pumpkin."

ODD FELLOWS HOST

Morning Light Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Campbell, enjoyed a special program last week when Henry Fisher, captain and his drill team, of Observation Lodge, of San Jose conferred the third degree on a class of candidates here. The work was very impressively done and Charles Moore, past noble grand of that lodge, gave a very fine talk.

A banquet followed the meeting

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miracle and Mrs. Vaudine Sanders returned Wednesday from their trip to Seattle. They were accompanied by Mrs. Irene Miracle Willers, who will go on to Los Angeles in a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Miracle.

CHURCH BAZAAR NETS TIDY SUM

The Rainbow bazaar held in the Congregational Church Friday was a pronounced success in beauty, variety and quality of articles for sale in sociability and financial returns.

The name was well deserved as each of the booths was arranged under a rainbowarch fashioned of stripes of colored crepe paper, others adorned the door way and beautiful streamers festooned the archway and adorned the lights.

In one corner they simulated a cornucopia from which the candy was dispensed.

Numbers were in attendance for the opening in the afternoon. Interesting and effective exercises were held with Rev. W. C. Robbins offering the prayer. Appropriate songs by Mrs. Ralph Hyde, a few words by Mr. Bennett and the opening by Mrs. Frank Duncan who referred to the "rainbow of promise" and the "pot of gold" which they hoped to find.

Tea and wafers were served during the afternoon and three relays of supper.

An informal, but very delightful, program was given during the evening. Mrs. Grattan had the opening number, a song entitled "The Rainbow."

There were solos by Dr. W. I. Merrill, who played his own accompaniment, with violin obligatos by W. C. Bohnett. He also played later for Mr. Bohnett's violin solos.

Mr. Royal Page gave two cornet solos and Rev. Bennett and H. C. Smith sang, for all of whom Miss Mahan officiated at the piano. Mrs. David Sanders played two piano solos.

F. H. Cutting's "art gallery" was viewed by many, admiring visitors who gladly left their silver offering.

Announcement was made Sunday that the ladies were assured of at least $400.

MRS. MC BANE HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Last Saturday evening there was a rather serious collision at the intersection of Campbell ave. and Winchester road, between a car driven by Gerald Shadle, son of I. W. Shadle of Campbell and that of Mrs. Mary McBane of Los Gatos, driven by her son.

Mr. Shadle reported that the other parties said that they were entirely at fault in the matter, attributing the accident to the heavy rain on their windshield, saying they did not see the other car, which was just leaving the filling station headed north.

Both cars were badly wrecked, but the men escaped without injury. Mrs. McBane was severely bruised and possibly had a fractured lower jaw. She was taken to Dr. Merrill's office, who later placed her in the county hospital for care and observation.

ORTMANS GO EAST

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Ortman left recently via the southern route for New York. Cards from the Grand Canyon reported a pleasant trip that far. Mr. Ortman has been with the American Express Company in China for several years returning here last month, and is now on his way East to headquarters to receive new orders, which may be a transfer to another country. Mrs. Ortman had been here for a number of months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hayes, prior to her mother's death.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hughes, who are living in the Barron house on Los Gatos road, are happy over the arrival of a baby daughter, Saturday night, November 19.

GRANGERS BOOST LOCAL HALL FUND

Subscriptions for the new grange hall were reported at the grange Tuesday evening to be coming in quite satisfactorily. Mr. Hedegard spoke especially of the need of such a hall in Campbell and expressed the hope that Campbell would be made the central meeting point for Pomona Grange.

Mr. Couk spoke interestingly of his recent visit to Oregon mentioning the prune crop there as rather light and prices better than here. Mr. Harms thought too much water was sometimes an injury to prunes causing a greater shrinkage in drying which is a common complaint this year.

Mr. Weisendanger thought pruning heavily would reduce the quantity and increase the size of prunes and would be an advantage to the grower.

The grange orchestra played fine selections which were greatly enjoyed.

Joe McKinnon and Mrs. Marie Barnes put on the stunt of the evening, an old auto body was brought in and set up on some boxes. The first scene was "a man teaching his wife to drive." Mrs. Barnes stepped in and took the wheel. McKinnon beside her cranked, crusted and crabbed. After a short drive with little success on the learner's part, they concluded it was time to go home.

The second scene was "teaching another man's wife to drive," which proved to be a different affair — everything was affable and even affectionate and concluded with the promise of another lesson some evening soon when the other man had gone to his club, all creating a lot of fun.

Pomona Grange meets Saturday at Gilroy. An invitation was accepted by the grange to attend the Congregational Church in a body Sunday evening, December 4. It is desired that grangers make note of this and fill the church. A series of card parties are also being planned.

ALUMNI 45S STAGE BIG COME-BACK

Last Wednesday, November 16, the Campbell Alumni 145 pound basketball team started the season off with a victory by defeating the fast Santa Clara Alumni '45's by a score of 20 to 11. The game was interesting from start to finish. Many spectacular plays featured the game on both sides.

The Santa Clara team tied for the first three quarters and the red and white team found their stride and in the last quarter "Specs" Clark made 10 points and Davis of Campbell was trailing him when the gun sounded with 8 points.

The players on the Campbell Alumni 145's are: Davis, Clark, Murphy, forwards; F. Blaine and C. Nelson, centers; M. Feathers, E. Nelson and E. Freitas, guards.

Coach Noddin of the Campbell Union High School is coaching the Alumni team and his work is very much appreciated by team.

KIWANIANS GIVE THANKS

"Dusty" Leon Miller in the chair Tuesday directed the charitable destinies of the local Kiwanis Club. He was pinch-hitting for an absentee and he made good as always.

Dr. Channing A. Richardson of San Jose was speaker of the day, talking on "America and Destiny" as a thanksgiving topic. The new idea of freedom to worship was born in New England, where the American Thanksgiving also had its inception. This country is much the grander for ideals brought to it by these founders.

"Doc" Lucie Beall is slated for chairman Tuesday and Dr. Boonshaft of San Jose will speak.

Hope to Complete Bay Shore to Redwood City

In his first definite statement of policy on the Bay Shore highway, Bert B. Meek, director of the State Department of Public Works, announced last week that the highway commission hopes to complete the road as far as Redwood City during the present biennium, or before July, 1929.

San Francisco's action in approving the bonds at the last election to provide for construction linking up with the Bay Shore program, declared Meek, will have the effect of speeding up State work, as it is an evidence of good faith on the part of the bay city.

PILGRIMS VS. PURITANS

The debate the other day in Boston "Who had the greater influence upon the development of our Nation, the Pilgrims or the Puritans?" ended in a draw. Professor Albert Bushnell Hart, of the history department of Harvard University, rebutted his own argument, pro-Puritan and in favor of the Pilgrims. His opponent was the Rev. Carroll Perry of Ipswich, Mass.

"They were both pretty good folks," said the dignified Professor Hart, following a dramatic pause in which there was much silence. He resumed his seat it is related in the Christian Science Monitor.

Mr. Perry, declaring for the greater influence of the Pilgrims, was the first of the two speakers because of the chronological advantage of that little band of serious adventurers in having been the first to settle upon New England's "stern and rock-bock coast." It was upon this bent that he began.

"The pioneer in any line exerts ideas of private capital, two basic ideas. He quoted a passage from the works of William Bradford, whom he termed "that good old Mussolini of Cape Cod," telling of the failure of the Communistic plan in Plymouth of having all work and food shared in common, and of the return to the private ownership plan.

"It must be remembered, too, in the discussion of this question, that all Pilgrims were Puritans, but that very few were Pilgrims."

Hoover Popular with All

That Herbert Hoover will have the next California delegation behind him when he goes into the national convention is now a foregone conclusion. The Progressives are taking him as well as the Conservatives. For the best interest of San Francisco, and California as well, is it expedient to broadcast Hoover's boom too vehemently for San Francisco is in the race for the next Republican national convention and may not the friends of the other candidates on the national committee, which selects the place for holding the convention, shy at the thought of the convention coming to the West coast. To hold the convention in the State of a leading candidate, which Hoover is, so Chester Rowell, just back from a trip East, tells, would be an unquestionable advantage. If San Francisco lost the convention because of Hoover's prominence in the race it would not be the first time a favorite son cost his State the convention. It has happened in other years. But, of course, California would rather have Hoover in the White House, if it can't have both, than the convention at San Francisco, but it will fight for both, nevertheless. Will Crocker, the banker and member of the national committee from California, will carry to Washington a check for $250,000 as a guarantee that San Francisco will give the delegates a royal reception and money speaks loud words it is said.

In saying that the Progressives are taking Hoover, meaning Hiram Johnson contingent, this is not asserting that he has everyone. The dry progressives, who still regard the dry problem a major one, lean toward Senator Borah, who is now hitting hard at the Republican leaders, who would like to bury the amendment in some secluded spot where the dogs wouldn't even dig it up. Borah, single-handed, is making the enforcement of the amendment, the paramount issue and, of course, the pussy footing politicians dislike him for it. Then there are the radical Progressives, a minority of course, who think Hoover too much of the big business type and who would welcome a chance to support Senator Norris of Nebraska, a 100 per cent radical or even Senator Borah.

FACTS BEAR OUT MAGRUDER

A 16-inch gun, weighing 140,000 pounds, damaged in practice shooting off Los Angeles, cannot be lifted from the deck of the Maryland at any shipyard on the Pacific Coast, and that battleship must be sent to some shipyard on the Atlantic to get the work done. This confirms what Admiral Magruder said about bad management of the navy yards, with seven on the Atlantic Coast with almost nothing to do and none on the Pacific Coast where the bulk of the navy is now stationed, capable of doing such work as this. — San Bernardino Sun.

The rising generation is more conservative than some people would have you believe and we have noted a number of instances lately where the young man kept both hands on the steering wheel while the young lady did the hugging. — Byron Times.

Boys and Girls Drill for Big Night

Instead of having separate programs on separate nights, the Campfire Girls and Boy Scouts of Campbell have decided to stage a big joint program on January 13 in the Grammar School Auditorium.

The Campfire Girls will put on an operetta, "The Feast of the Red Corn," and the Boy Scouts will present a comedy, "The Midnight Tryst." Beside these major numbers, there will be several features, tumbling by the Lone Scouts, stunts by the Boy and Sea Scouts and a scenic background by F. H. Cutting, who has so far recovered from his recent fall as to be once more on the ladder with crayon and brush.

A full two hour program is being planned, and every care is being taken to provide a sequence with snap from start to finish. Miss Jenkins is coaching the Campfire Girls and T. A. Cutting the play. With the added charm and freshness of amateur actors, the entertainment should be the equal to a professional performance.

Plans include a matinee performance Friday afternoon, January 12, for school children, besides the Saturday night program. Amateur actors always do better after such a preliminary rendition before a real audience.

The Grammar School board has donated the use of the auditorium for the event and so a big profit for scout equipment and Campfire quarters is confidently expected.

Moreland Club Plans for Winter Season

Moreland Good Will Club held its regular meeting with Mrs. Harriman, November 16. Both president and vice president being absent at time of opening, Mrs. Zittle called the meeting to order.

The business meeting was left till after the program in order that the president might be there to bring important matters before the members.

Mrs. Percy McMillan gave a most interesting talk of a winter spent in Dawson.

The business meeting was then held after which the hostess served dainty refreshments, an appropriate serving for our program Eskimo pie was part.

The next meeting will be November 30, at the hall. An all day meeting, each member bringing her own lunch and coming prepared to work. Bring needle, thread and thimble, too, as there are curtains to make and various other tasks to get the hall in readiness for use this season.

Mama Dolls at Smith's

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Anderson of Pollard road, Friday, a daughter, "Chris" is wearing the proverbial smile of all proud fathers over the first arrival.

Mr. Albin Johnson, older brother of C. L. Johnson, is here from Sweden to spend the winter. He is of an open mind and if the weather man and the neighbors will just be good to him he may decide to make this his permanent home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Bean of Williams road were hosts at a family dinner party yesterday, having as guests Mr. Bean's sisters, the Misses L. E. and Anna Bean of the Alameda and their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Smith of Vallejo, and Miss Abbie Sykes of the same city.

No longer will crooks be employed in positions of trust by the city of San Diego. To put a halt to the hiring of men who have "records" in other cities, all applicants for jobs, from police down to common laborers, must undergo fingerprinting, and have the prints scrutinized by the identification bureau. Bootleggers, particularly, have practiced removing from cities where they have been convicted, and obtaining public employment in a city where they were unknown in order to become personally acquainted with the police, county and federal authorities.

It is well to make a good beginning and it is also well to remember that the end is what determines everything.

If a husband foots his wife's bills she should at least foot his hosiery.

County Exhibit Valuable Attraction

November 20, marked the end of the first Pacific Foreign Trade and Travel Exposition in the Civic Auditorium, San Francisco, California. Santa Clara county's exhibit, representing the 40 canners and dried fruit packers of the county proved to be one of the most interesting and instructive in the great foreign trade show.

"The Valley of Heart's Delight" was fortunate in its commanding location. Next to the stage at the end of the long main aisle of impressive displays of ships, rope, travel agencies, et al., was this great mass of dried fruit. Fourteen packers of the country had their products impressively arranged.

Near the dried fruit exhibit and in as commanding space, was the display of countless cans and jars showing the visitor the products of the 30 canners having plants in the Santa Clara county.

Two Hundred Thousand people paid admission to the exposition and thousands of school children examined the displays. Most excellent advertising was received for the county, it being the only complete exhibit of the products of the fruit industry of a county or section on display.

The exhibits were arranged and installed by the San Jose Chamber of Commerce through its representative, Russell Pettit, and made possible through the county Board of Supervisors. Santa Clara County Consolidated sponsored the advertising, carrying out its effort to spend county advertising fund money in a worth while and effective manner.

Many Prospective buyers from foreign countries, as well as from domestic firms, were referred to the individual firms, either through the little pamphlet prepared specially for the display. This contained the name and address of the firms co-operating. Many prominent Santa Clara county people visited the display and pronounced themselves highly pleased.

SAVE FOREST GROWTH

At this season it is well to note the law relative to the toyon berries and the Christmas trees. Forest rangers and owners of property where these grow are determined to enforce the law, as great harm is done to forest and watershed by their destruction, as well as the beauty of the hills largely destroyed.

The law provides that all toyon or Christmas trees wilfully cut or possessed without a written permission of the owner are subject to confiscation by a State forester, the maximum fine for this offense being a fine of $500.

The term Christmas tree includes any evergreen tree or part thereof cut and removed from the place where grown and without the foliage having been removed.

MRS. WIND OR DEAD

Word was received last week of the death of Mrs. Harriet B. Windsor, widow of the first Congregational pastor in Campbell, Dr. William Windsor. Mrs. Windsor died following a paralytic stroke.

She was the mother of Henry H. Windsor, founder and owner for some time of Popular Mechanics Magazine. He gave the large stained memorial window to the local Congregational Church in honor of his father, its founder.

On the death of her husband, Mrs. Windsor returned East to live near her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kerr of St. Louis.

California and Louisiana have produced 82 per cent of all the rice grown in the United States this year, and California alone has grown 60 per cent of all the oranges and 96 per cent of all the lemons. Adding to the State's record, California produced 96 per cent of all the grapes in the United States in 1927. With the marketing of the greatest grape production on record rapidly nearing the season end, California is turning its attention to its citrus harvest, the report states, and the movement of the golden navel fruit was started during the first week of this month.

The California Lima Bean Growers' Association has just mailed out to its local secretaries, statements and checks in final settlement of its 1926 crop pool of regular limas. The amount sent out is reported in excess of $575,000, bringing the total net return for the season to $5,766 per cwt. As the association pays all storage, taxes and fire insurance charges as part of its expenses, this return is said to be equivalent to about $5.90 per cwt. This, the association management states, is considerably higher than the average price received for their 1926 crop by growers who were not members of the organization.

After suffering a slump following the recent storm, shipments of fresh grapes from Kern county have regained virtually a normal movement during the past week and the remainder of the crop will be picked and consigned rapidly unless additional rains interrupt the harvest in its last stages. With only a small percentage remaining on the vines, and consisting of juice grapes, the growers escaped material losses from the last rainfall and the harvest was resumed on virtually a normal scale after the ground had dried. Approximately 20 per cent of Kern county's grape crop remains to be harvested and shipped up to last week.

The 1926-1927 California citrus season, ending October 31st, was the heaviest in numbers of carloads shipped in the history of the industry, with a total of 70,600 cars. This is according to figures issued at Los Angeles by the Fruit World, a leading publication of the industry. The report shows that orange shipments totaled 57,163 cars, or 8,197 more than the next heaviest shipping season, 1922-23, when 50,966 cars were shipped. Total lemon shipments for the season were 13,437 cars, or 173 less than were shipped during 1925-26, when the high total was 13,610, the heaviest in history.

Production reports of dairy cows in Kings county for October, by Leo C. Dugman, official tester of the county farm bureau cow testing association, show that 780 cows were tested during the month. Seventy-six cows produced forty or more pounds of butterfat during the month. Production averages were: 574 pounds of milk with a fat content of 20.5 pounds. The high producing cow with 2,058 pounds of milk containing 86.4 pounds of butterfat. In the purebred class, the high production cow gave 1,766 pounds of milk and 49.7 of butterfat.

The olive season has commenced in earnest, and all companies operating in the Lindsay district are receiving fruit and starting processing operations. This appears the best season, as far as demand is concerned, experienced in a number of years. The crop is not heavy except in a few individual groves, although it is much better than last year's. The Lindsay Ripe Olive company has already received twice as much tonnage as last year, and has had to take in some additional tonnage to cover its orders.

The Federal Land Bank of Berkeley announced last week that during the month of October it made 124 loans to farmers of California, Utah, Nevada and Arizona, totaling in value $507,500. California farmers were given 63 loans, totaling $288,200; Utah 43, totaling $106,100; Nevada 8, totaling $70,500; Arizona 10, totaling $42,700. Chester Rowell, member of the State tax commission, last week left for Washington, D. C., at the request of Governor C. C. Young to appear before the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives this week and present opposition of the California administration to repeal of the Federal tax.

Eleven new State banks chartered by the State Banking Department since January 1, 1927, have added total resources to the State banking system to the amount of $13,538,368.86 or over $1,200,000 per bank as an average during the last nine months. These figures were revealed by the State Banking Department last week. Branch banks included by State banks are not included in the figures, only unit banks being considered. The State Banking Department as a matter of policy has discouraged the organization of new banks with less than $50,000 capital, officials of the department said. None of the banks mentioned had a capital of less than $50,000.

California's county library system, operated in conjunction with the State Library at Sacramento, is being copied in England and Scotland with great success, according to State Librarian Milton J. Ferguson, who has just returned from Europe. Ferguson attended the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the British Library Association.

California clergy are entitled to the benefits of the workmen's compensation insurance act in case of "industrial injury," which would mean injury while engaged in acting as ministers of the gospel. All ministers have been so advised in a circular sent out by the Division of Industrial Accidents and Safety, State Department of Industrial Relations.

More than 6,000 persons have been arrested in Bakersfield for offenses ranging from petit theft and disturbing the peace, to assault, grand theft and other felonies since the first of the year, according to a report just completed at headquarters by Chief of Police Phil Fickert at Bakersfield. Since the chief, on January 1st, took office, 223 men and women have been arrested within the city limits for bootlegging, and more than 70 per cent of them have pleaded guilty and paid fines ranging from $100 to $500 in police court. During the same period, according to the ten months' record just brought to date, 284 men have been cited to police court for drunkenness. Last month's arrests totaled 142.

Service on steam railroads, electric railways and interurban lines in California compares very favorably with service on similar lines throughout the entire country, according to a report submitted to the Railroad Commission by Chief Engineer A. G. Mott of the commission, summarizing the results of a tour of investigation of the principal states, with particular reference to transportation. The report states that street car and interurban electric railway fares are generally higher in the East than in California.

Plans to reopen the American Boy gold mine in the Granite Basin country, in Butte county, are announced by Ralph Smith, who with his business associates has arrived at Oroville from Los Angeles. The owners plan to conduct operations on a large scale. A new stamp mill has been ordered and work is being rushed to install it before roads leading to the project are blocked by snow. The mine is also known as the "Olan project and has been worked intermittently for many years. It already has a small stamp mill.

The Los Angeles Examiner reported last week that the General Motors Corporation has secured options on two tracts of land in the Long Beach harbor district, Los Angeles, with the intention of entering the local field with a large manufacturing plant. One site comprises 600 acres and the other 300. Recent plans of the Ford company indicate that they will enter this territory with a much larger program than was originally intended. Consequently General Motors also has decided to locate a plant at Los Angeles.

Guayule rubber, produced from shrubs plentiful in the arid regions of California and Mexico, has received recognition by the United States Bureau of Standards of "comparing favorably" with plantation Hevea rubber. Reports received last by the California Department of Agriculture states that the federal bureau has just completed extensive tests which point to the utilization of the Guayule shrub for commercial purposes. The shrub, which produces a copious supply of milk, grows voluntarily over many parts of southern California.

James W. Smith, state forest ranger of Amador county, has submitted his annual report of the fires and damages throughout Amador county during this season to the Division of Forestry. The report states, in the heading of suppression of fires a total cost of $788.75 to both county and state. Smith in this report estimates under the area burned, a total of 1583 acres of timber: brush, 6200, and grass, 18,542. In his estimates of damage done the ranger gives $1570 for timber, $3468.75 for ranges, improvements, $17,100.

Flints for Razors

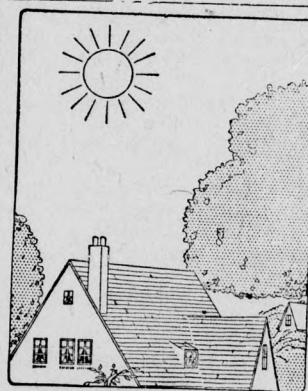

Maori barbers in New Zealand demonstrated their skill at an ancient shaving custom for a motion-picture film recently, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. For a razor, two sharp pieces of flint were used, while the "customer" plainly registered the fact that the operation was more of an ordeal than a pleasure. The practice of shaving with flints is said to have had its origin in the Stone Age, more than 20,000 years ago, and was popular, even if painful, for many centuries and among various peoples. In the British museum are specimens of flints with which the Romans shaved in the Classical age.

Talking About Names

Matching the queer Chinese names that have been appearing in the news columns, a traveling man just returned from a trip through Alabama and Florida reported passing through, among other places, Bayou Labartre Crudup, Godo, Haco, Loachapoka, Notasulga, Opelika, Sylacanga, Weogufka, Wetumpka, Alachua, Apopka, Eau Gallie, Micanopy, Palatka, Umatilla and Zolfo.—Chicago Journal.

New Heart Stimulant

Dr. H. G. Cameron of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, is the discoverer of "cardassain," a chemical product calculated to prolong human life. The material, obtained from the super-adrenal glands of cows, accelerates the heart in spite of anoxemia, and it is said that it may be of use in cardiac failure in pneumonia cases. It also counteracts chloroform poisoning and may render some operations less dangerous.

Gas keeps

A clean fuel

sunnier, brighter days

People who use gas fuel help keep their city clean.

For gas gives off no
smoke or by-products that hide the sun's rays. The air remains pure. The sun shines brightly.

And why is gas so clean?

Because we "launder" the gas before it's sent to you. The gas goes through purifiers. It is cleaned in mechanical "scrubbers." Only pure gas that burns clean passes into the pipes that lead to your home. And gas is all fuel.

For cleaner, sunnier and healthier cities use

Old Watch in Good Order

Miss Cynthia A. Pintler of White Lake, N. Y., has had her grandfather's watch wound for the first time in 100 years. The watch, which was made in London in 1771, belonged to Peter Pintler, and becoming out of order, remained unused for the century. Miss Pintler had it put in good condition and deposited it in a bank.

Enjoyment Late in Life

She loved to play the piano when she was a little girl, but she had little time to practice. Now that she is a grandmother, age seventy-six, living at the Home of the Aged at Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. Rachel Vincent has found the first leisure she can call her own. So she has bought an organ and is taking music lessons after a lapse of 60 years.
